WILLKIE ORDERS NO EXPENSE IN REPLY TO IKESCalls Cabinet Member's Attack "Unworthy of Answer" Today

Rushville, Ind., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Viewing Secretary Ickes' reply to his acceptance speech as a presidential refusal to meet him in joint debate, Wendell L. Willkie gave this statement to reporters today:

"Lincoln did not think it was unworthy or undignified to debate, and neither did Daniel Webster."

"I am going to keep on asking for the debate, boys."

The Republican presidential nominee, who on Saturday challenged President Roosevelt to a series of "face to face" platform arguments, listened by radio last night to Ickes' address accusing him of "unpatriotic demagoguery" and "unpardonable reference" to the chief executive.

Hastily calling a secretary, he dictated a statement to Joe Martin, Republican chairman, saying "I am not surprised that Ickes would stoop to such levels, but I am astonished that the president of the United States would authorize such a speech."

The telegram had just been issued to reporters when Willkie burst into the hotel press room here and added the Lincoln-Webster comment, which he reserved for publication today.

"Unworthy of Answer"

Willkie telegraphed Martin that he should "waste no money in buying radio time to answer Ickes," adding that the speech is "unworthy of answer."

He said later that Senator H. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire would have "something to say" this afternoon concerning it. The nominee's original plan had been for Bridges to reply formally to Ickes in a radio address.

Disclosure of the telegram in mid-evening climaxed a busy day for the Republican nominee, who probably will leave here Thursday for a day or so and then proceed to Maine.

After taking newspapermen on a tour of his five Rush county farms, he spoke at a "welcome home" celebration arranged for himself and his wife, who was born here.

"Bombs are raining down on England today," Willkie said. "People who live and think as we do are being destroyed in their habit and way of life."

Is "Conversational Farmer"

"When one in my situation realizes that he is being called upon to play a part in the discussion of matters that have to do with keeping that kind of holocaust from coming to this country, you must know how deeply I feel."

"I am ready to make whatever personal sacrifice may be required of me, or whatever long days and sleepless nights, to preserve at all hazards the kind of life we have here in Rush county."

In reply to his introduction as a "Rush county farmer," he said: "I am a purely conversational farmer. I've never done a stroke of work on a Rush county farm in my life, and I hope that I don't have to. I merely do the talking."

Willkie's farms are operated by tenants, all of whom have participated in the federal AAA program. Willkie describes the cornfields and cattle and hog lots as "simple farming" rather than "show places."

The nominee said he wanted to retire to one of his places some day and "do some writing."

ICKES' REPLY ON AIR

Washington, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Secretary Ickes, calling Wendell Willkie's criticism of President Roosevelt's handling of foreign affairs "ill-considered and demagogic," has termed the Republican party "the party of appeasement."

In a radio address described as a reply to the Republican presidential nominee's acceptance speech, the interior secretary last night asserted:

"The Republican party in 1940 contains the equivalent of England's and France's pro-Nazi Munich appeasers of 1938—the men with the black umbrellas."

Senator Bridges (R-NH), foregoing a return visit to the grounds that nothing Ickes has said was worth the expense, issued a statement through the Republican national committee which said:

"Hitler in Short Pants"

"Who is this Ickes who talks so big—at a safe distance—about Hitler? In his own rights Ickes is a Hitler in short pants."

"Like Hitler he is a professional rabble-rouser who never succeeded

SIX BANDS WILL PERFORM DURING FAIR THIS WEEKMany Free Attractions and Concessions at Fair-Horse Show

The Assembly park tract of shaded grounds is hourly taking on a new appearance as huge tents are pitched to house livestock and concessions, at the opening of Lee county's seventh annual fair and horse show Friday afternoon, which will continue through Sunday. Every expectation for a new record showing is being fulfilled in every department of the fair, and the committees assure the public of the finest entertainment features available for the three afternoons and evenings.

Grover Wilhelm and Harry Beard of the entertainment committee had completed their program today and pointed with pride to the LeMoine troupe of six people who will head the bill. This group will be presented each afternoon and evening. One section of their program will be presented on the raised platform across the ring from the grandstand, while in another presentation, aerial equipment will present the entire troupe performing 40 feet in the air.

Six Bands Engaged

Six band organizations have been booked for the three days, which assures the patrons of the fair a wealth of musical entertainment. The Dixon Municipal band will appear at the Sunday afternoon showing, and in the evening of the closing day all of the special attractions will be presented on the platform and in the ring, the program concluding with a fine fireworks display. In addition to the Dixon Municipal band, the high school bands of Forreston and Mt. Morris, both directed by Miss Beth Hower, will appear on Friday and Saturday. Miss Marie Worley and her popular accordion band of this city will be featured in special numbers as will the Junior Legion drum and bugle corps and the Boy Scout troop, No. 89 drum and bugle corps. The latter three organizations, appearing at the Chicago and state fair, at Springfield over the week end, received fine recognition.

William "Big Bill" Hoeffner, who has been one of the first arrivals at the fair and horse show for the past six years, arrived at the park Sunday and set up all of his rides which will provide many hours of entertainment for the children and grown-ups. "Dutch" Dillenger of Peru was another early arrival among the concessioners, who were scrambling for choice locations along the midway today.

NAVY RUNS INTO SNAGS GETTING
ITS MATERIALSRear Admiral Furlong
Names Three Things
Stopping Progress

Washington, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Tax uncertainties, a profit limitation and competitive buying, including that of the British, were reported officially today to have stopped "progress" on the navy's procurement of materials for shipbuilding.

The report came from Rear Admiral W. R. Furlong, who made it to the senate appropriations committee during testimony on a $5,008,000,000 supplemental defense bill which the committee approved yesterday.

In another sphere of defense activity, the house military committee, meanwhile, gave its tentative approval to the registration for military service of men from 18 to 64, inclusive.

The committee has been working on a draft bill while the senate debated another version reported recently by its military committee. The senate version calls for registration of men from 21 through 30.

The committee's action did not mean necessarily that the bill which it will report out in a few days will call for 18 through 64 registration but that was considered likely on the basis of today's action.

Senator Apologizes

In the senate debate, Senator Connally (D-Tex.) charged that Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.) "wants to make it just as difficult as possible" for the United States to get an army.

Connally withdrew the statement later and apologized, but asserted he knew of "no other senator who is so free in reflecting on the moves of others as the senator from Montana."

Senator Lodge (R-Mass.) offered an amendment to restrict the draft to men between 21 and 25, inclusive.

Admiral Furlong urged that to remedy the navy's supply situation the senators do what they could to expedite house committee action on pending excess profits tax legislation. That legislation would lift restrictions on profits to be made from the navy orders and would also permit defense plant construction costs to be deducted from taxable profits over a period of five years.

Some committee members took a different tact, however, the committee's report on the testimony disclosed. Senator McKellar (D-Tenn.) said he thought perhaps "we should use a little force" to make manufacturers furnish needed materials. Senator Russell (D-Ga.) expressed himself as favoring authority for the president to take over plants when defense materials could not be obtained otherwise.

Cites U. S. Steel

In the course of his testimony, Admiral Furlong referred to the United States Steel Corporation. That company, he said, was going to invest $4,000,000 where it previously had a steel plant in order to turn out more steel, which the navy needs. But because of present long-term amortization provisions, he said, they decided not to do so, at least at this time.

In the case of the Goss Printing Press Company of Chicago, he said, the company bid on 144 anti-aircraft guns for equipping 28 destroyers but withdrew because five or six sub-contractors had declined to participate.

"The reason is," he said, "that there is much more business in the country than they can take on without being subjected to the Vinson-Trammell act provisions". The $10,000,000 order, he added, was being held up awaiting passage of the new tax legislation in

Dwight Green Principal Speaker at Lee Co. Fair-Horse Show on Friday

Friday of this week will be Republican Day at the Lee County Fair and Horse Show and Saturday will be Democratic Day.

On Friday Dwight H. Green, Republican nominee for governor of Illinois will be the principal speaker and he will be accompanied by a number of prominent leaders in state politics. Werner Schroeder, Republican National Committeeman from Illinois will also be on the Friday afternoon program. Admission to the Assembly Park, where the fair and horse show will be held, and the grand stand will be free until 4 p.m.

The afternoon's program will be interesting and varied. Besides the political discussions by Mr. Green and Mr. Schroeder there will be several classes of horses shown in the arena, there will be music and vaudeville acts, the various exhibits and booths and the many attractions usually found at a first class county fair.

Chairman Ben L. Berve of the Illinois Republican State Committee will be in attendance, as will Mrs. Mary Silvis, state chairwoman; Alfred E. Borah, state director of Young Republicans; Richard Yates Rowe, in charge of organization for the state committee and many Republican candidates for county and district offices.

Mr. Green's address is scheduled for 2:30 o'clock. The general public is invited to this great Republican rally and there will be delegations from all of the counties in the 13th congressional district.

Whereabouts of 2 Refugee Ships on Atlantic Unknown

BULLETIN

Dublin, Aug. 20.—(AP)—The torpedo sinking of a 5,000-ton British steamer bound to the Americas with British war refugees, some of them en route to the United States, was disclosed today.

Seven persons were killed, survivors said, when two torpedoes struck their ship when it was two days out from a British port. The survivors were landed Sunday at a port of northwest Ireland by a Yugoslav steamer. The name of the British ship was not disclosed. Her destination had been Japan.

Washington, Aug. 20.—(AP)—A German embassy spokesman expressed "hope" today that the U. S. army transport American Legion was now safely through the zone that Germany declared was mine-infested and dangerous.

Navy and other government officials said they had no information from the refugee-crowded ship but on the basis of unofficial calculations the American Legion was believed to have been in the "danger area" most or all of the night.

Traveling at normal speed and without any stops or delays, it was believed the ship should have passed through the most dangerous waters off the north coast of Scotland during the night and morning.

Dr. Wilhelm Tannenber, first secretary of the German embassy, when asked at a press conference yesterday if he thought the ship should be in the "danger zone" during the next 12 hours, said he believed it would be but expressed no opinion as to how long it would remain in it.

AWAIT 138 CHILDREN

New York, Aug. 20.—(AP)—An unidentified British liner which was expected to arrive yesterday with 138 child refugees from the European war had not been sighted up until noon today.

Members of the United States Committee for the Care of European Children, which arranged the voyage, had waited at the Battery all day yesterday and were back at their vigil today.

Among the young refugees were 84 children of employees of the Hoover Vacuum Cleaner Company's plant in England. They are to be placed in the homes of Hoover employees at North Canton, Ohio.

Despite war-time censorship, it was learned that the ship had reached Halifax and presumably was en route to New York.

"TEST TUBE" TWINS

Shelbyville, Ill., Aug. 20.—(AP)—The Shelbyville County Artificial Breeding Association had a strong selling point for its methods today. A pair of "test tube" twins was born to a Guernsey cow owned by Art Harris of nearby Findlay.

"MOTHERLY INSTINCTS"

Danville, Ill., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Two turkey gobblers, obsessed with "motherly instincts," have been making life miserable for a guinea hen on the Cy Payne poultry farm near here.

Payne said he discovered the male turkeys had evicted the hen from her nest and were taking turns hatching her eggs.

"ON THE DOT"

Puyallup, Wash., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Fire Chief Chester Drakefield had 12 minutes to make his 2:30 appointment with the dentist. The alarm rang.

He raced to the fire—at the office of Dr. M. R. Thomas, dentist. The small blaze extinguished, the chief looked at his watch, climbed into the chair and said: "Right on the dot, eh Doc?"

RAF Bombers Take War to Germany: Churchill Expresses Confidence

The War Today!

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE

England's claim that the Italian occupation of British Somaliland is lacking in strategic importance must hold good in a broad sense so long as King George's navy continues to control the Red sea and its approach through the Gulf of Aden, thereby safeguarding the arterial Suez canal.

Possession of inhospitable Somaliland, with its fierce warrior tribes may prove a mixed blessing to Signor Mussolini. However, the British characterization of his very considerable achievement as "an empty victory" strikes me as being rather overdrawn and savoring a bit of the fox and the high-linging grapes.

This British defeat may easily have an adverse influence on England's prestige in the Near East—and that is important. Possession of Somaliland also consolidates Italy's position in East Africa, gives added protection to all its territories in that region, and brings it a step nearer its ambition to seal the southern end of the Red sea, thus severing Britain's vital connection with the Far East.

While we are dealing with operations affecting the eastern Mediterranean I want to call your attention to the strained relations between Italy and Greece. There's enough high explosive in this situation to blow a considerable hole in the Hitlerian blitzkrieg against England if much more heat is applied.

Greek belief that Mussolini is preparing to demand territorial concessions has created a position which easily could develop into war in the Balkans. That is one of the things which Herr Hitler wants least of all to happen at this crucial juncture, and one of the things which would please John Bull no end, especially right now while he finds the going tough.

Because of this peculiar state of affairs, in which one member of the axis partnership seems to be pulling against the other, it is given to wonder whether Signor Mussolini is having a little adventure on his own at the expense of his ally. It's hard to believe that Hitler would acquiesce in anything

Illinois Soldiers Cut Deep Salient
Into Territory Held by the 'Enemy'

Camp McCoy, Wis., Aug. 20.—(AP) "Wounded" straggled back to the rear lines today as unimpaired reviewed the first day of combat between four National Guard divisions.

Yesterday's mock battles were the largest yet staged in the Second Army maneuvers, which will close next week with a large-scale conflict between the entire 60,000 troops in the area.

On two fronts the war games continued. The 33rd division, Illinois National Guard, battered the defensive position of the 32nd division, Wisconsin and Michigan troops.

Fast-moving and numerically superior forces of the 38th division, Indiana, Kentucky and West Virginia Guardsmen moved to fold up the flanks of the 37th division, Ohio National Guard.

Numerous cavalry engagements featured the battle of the Illinois troops against the Wisconsin Michigan forces, with the Illinois Guardsmen forcing a deep salient into 32nd division territory after a long conflict.

Many prisoners were taken in the engagement between the 37th and 38th division, including a patrol of Indiana, West Virginia and Kentucky troops. The patrol advanced far to the rear of the Ohio line, but was captured after inflicting heavy "losses."

Meals were snatched, standing up, from the tail boards of mess trucks, equipped with the latest in field kitchens. Pup tents were pitched in rear areas where troops returning from the front lines rested and napped before going into action again.

Ogle County Farm Bureau News Notes

The Ogle County Chorus sponsored by the Farm Bureau and Home Bureau will participate in the Illinois Rural Chorus presentation at the State Fair on Friday evening, August 23. Farm Adviser D. E. Warren reports that the greater part of the forty members enrolled in the county chorus will take part.

The following members attended the Chicago Music Festival last Saturday to sing in the rural chorus presenting two of the numbers that will be used in Springfield: Mr. and Mrs. Fay Barnhart, Mt. Morris; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Wragg, Oregon; Mrs. S. H. Hills, Oregon; Louise and Martha Samelson, Oregon; Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Proff, Rochelle; Harold Mertz, Polo; Robert and Bonnie Cretz, Leaf River; Arlene Zundahl, Linus Zundahl and Lawrence Zundahl, Mt. Morris; Nancy Jane White, Oregon; and Miss Violet Rhoads, home adviser.

The Ogle County Farm Bureau will be represented at the Illinois Farm Sports Festival at Urbana, August 30 and 31, by a 4-H club boys' softball team. Preliminary games were played at the county picnic last Saturday and the final game between Forrester Boosters club and the Adeline-Eagle Springs clubs will determine the winning team to play in the state contest.

In the preliminary games the Forrester Boosters club won over the combined team of Mt. Morris North Side and White Pines clubs. Likewise the Adeline-Eagle Springs team won over the Oregon 4-H team. All clubs in the county had been invited to participate in the games.

Attendance at the annual Ogle County Farm Bureau and Home Bureau picnic at the fair grounds at Oregon, August 17, was estimated at 1500 people in spite of the fact that many communities were threshing. The 4-H club exceeded all previous exhibits in quality and quantity. The livestock was judged in the forenoon by L. V. Slothower, agricultural teacher at Dixon, and Goodman Story and Everett James of the Chicago Producers' Commission Association.

The ball game between Ogle and DeKalb county teams was won by DeKalb with a score of 5 to 1.

The tug-of-war between the east side and the west side teams was decided in favor of the east side which had a slight advantage at the end of the three minute period.

The pie eating contest was won by Roderick Canfield of Nashua township.

The hog calling champion was Bert Sheely of Pine Creek with William Hummel a close second.

Velva Gatz of Buffalo township was given first premium in the slipper kicking contest.

Horse shoe pitching was enjoyed during the day with Hugh Blake and William Garkey in charge.

The prize for the oldest Farm Bureau member present was awarded to E. F. Chapman, Lafayette township, who is 82 years old.

The Farm Bureau member with the largest family present was Frank Floto of Taylor township, the number of his family at the picnic was six.

Cooperating with the Farm Bureau to make the picnic enjoyable were the Ogle County Fair Association, E. D. Landers, secretary; the Schiller Piano Company; Carnation Milk Company; Ed Murdoch; and Keig Stevens Baking company, and the Oregon Lumber Company.

Vermont was the first state to be admitted to the Union following the adoption of the original Federal constitution.

FRANK PRIEBE'S WEEKLY LETTER to POULTRY RAISERS

Spring chickens are worth 3 to 5 cents more than they were a year ago. Eggs are worth as much as 3 cents more and hens are up a cent.

Last spring, when I was urging you to buy chicks, I told you why I thought poultry and eggs would be worth more this fall. I hope you got the chicks, because these prices are beginning to look good. There are profitable months ahead for poultry raisers.

A hatchery I know is setting eggs this week because they have so many orders for chicks. There are some wide-awake poultry raisers who are evidently watching the trend in the market and who aren't going to lose any time getting chicks started. People are beginning to break away from the old notion that spring was the only time you could start chicks.

Right now I can't understand why people are selling more hens than they were a year ago. They are bringing a little better price than they did, it's true, but eggs are already bringing a considerably better price and the market will keep on improving.

Fall Market Prospects Look Good

There is no question that a person who has eggs to sell in the fall always makes money on them. This fall you should make more than usual.

So I think it's a mistake to sell any more than the number of hens you would normally cull from the flock as non-producers. I think, until you have pullets to replace them, you should keep every hen that will lay a profitable number of eggs and feed them to get every egg possible.

In the meantime, of course, the sooner you can get your pullets into production, the better. It's important to take the time necessary to build a good egg machine—one that will not break down under the strain of production.

But do it as quickly as possible because there is going to be a good market for eggs this fall and you will want to have your pullets laying.

Sincerely yours,

The Brutal Bull Doesn't Hurt as Many as "Bossie"

Urbana, Ill., Aug. 20—The brutal bull didn't hurt so many Illinois people in 1939 as the contented cow, contrary to the beliefs and fears of most persons, according to R. C. Hay, extension agricultural engineer of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Cows injured 127 persons, one permanently, while bulls injured only 46. However, the bulls' attacks were more vicious, since eight persons died following the attacks. Horses killed 29 people, 21 men, 1 woman and 7 children.

Source of the information is the farm accident chart compiled by the Illinois Agricultural Association for 1939. Machinery injuries led, with 973 injuries and 38 deaths, livestock being second with 709 injuries and 37 deaths. Falls about the farmstead ranked third with 689 injuries and 31 deaths.

The tractor injured 306 persons, more than twice the number injured by any other machine. Temporary injuries numbered 283, and there were three permanent injuries and 20 deaths from tractors.

The combine injured 70 persons, 59 temporarily and seven permanently, compared with 141 injured by the corn picker, 81 temporarily and 57 permanently.

That starters on machines have a definite place in a safety program is evidence by the 74 temporary injuries inflicted as a result of persons being "kicked" when trying to start machines. By falling from tractors, 38 persons were injured temporarily, there was one permanent injury and seven deaths. Gasoline explosions injured 23, and killed eight, dynamite injured seven, and kerosene explosions killed 13 and injured 10. Since nine of the 13 kerosene deaths were of women it is assumed that the explosions occurred when a fire was being kindled.

The ax accounted for 63 injuries, 55 temporary and eight permanent. The circular saw was responsible for 55 injuries, 38 temporary, 15 permanent and two deaths.

WHEAT

A severe collapse followed the breaking of the deadlock which has prevailed for the past five weeks, as efforts to liquidate September contracts disclosed a surprising absence of demand and an almost complete lack of confidence in values. The decline on Friday carried prices down to the levels prevailing at the end of August last year, just prior to the declaration of war, and it would therefore appear that the entire effect upon domestic prices of both the war and the subsequent threat of a short crop in the United States this year, has been nullified. At that time a record world surplus was the depressing influence, but appeared to have been largely discounted in the price. Now, at approximately the same price level, the world surplus has been substantially reduced and is almost entirely concentrated in North America. In contrast with a potential surplus of 950 million bushels in the United States and Canada, indications are that the meager crops in Europe will be exhausted before the winter is over, and combined groups and carryover in Argentina and Australia promise to be materially below normal.

There is no question of the need for the greater part of these North American supplies, as it is generally conceded that large areas in Europe are facing famine this winter, but there is a serious question, as to the ability of these European countries to secure the wheat they need. The British blockade now extends from the Arctic Circle to North Africa, and Germany is increasingly active in attempts to prevent imports into Great Britain. There is little doubt as to the ability of the United States government to finance as much of the crop as farmers may choose to withhold from the market, through the medium of the loan, but the Canadian government, with its many war obligations, may find the problem more difficult. They are already embarrassed in the matter of storage space, and are considering a policy of inducing farmers to hold wheat back on the farms, through some plan similar to the loan program in effect in the United States. Obviously, the immediate, as well as the distant course of wheat prices, will depend almost entirely upon the duration of the war.

CORN

There has been a further widening of the premium for September over the new crop months, as offerings from the country have been barely sufficient to supply more active shipping demand, sales having totaled 389,000 bushels. Rains were general over most of the western section of the belt and more frequent, although widely scattered, over the drier eastern areas and, as a whole, it is probable that crop prospects have improved since August 1st. The burdensome surplus of Argentina has forced the government to apply additional supporting measures, and it was announced on Thursday that 35¢ cents a bushel would be paid for shelled corn, basis "free aboard ship" at Buenos Aires, until December 15th. It was not stated whether or not this action replaced the loan provisions previously in effect.

OATS

There has been a sharp contrast in the attitude of producers in the northwest from that displayed in the central states, as evidenced by liberal receipts from the new crop at Minneapolis and Duluth and a run in Chicago which looks more like the end, than the peak of the marketing season. Hedges against the northwestern movement have been fairly well absorbed by shipping and processing interests and the cash basis has been fairly well maintained. The holding policy of farmers is evidenced by the increase in the visible supply of only 698,000 bushels, as compared with 2,093,000 bushels last year.

RYE

The popular belief that the crop was below domestic requirements, and that the loan privilege would be generally utilized because of the low price, had evidently developed an extensive long interest. A wave of liquidation followed the decline in the wheat market, and prices sank to new low levels for the year, September contracts in Minneapolis selling at 33½ cents, or about 4 cents below the average loan basis on the farms.

Demonstration Tour in Ogle Co. Sept. 5

The Farm Bureau, the Soil Conservation Service and the CCC camp located at Oregon are cooperating in a demonstration tour to be held on Thursday, September 5 to visit several farms on which erosion control and pasture improvement measures are being practiced.

The tour will begin in the forenoon and those attending will bring their lunch and have a picnic on the lawn of one of the cooperating farmers at noon.

John Hayden, superintendent of the CCC camp and D. E. Warren, farm adviser will have charge and will be assisted by H. A. deWerrf of the University of Illinois.

The public will be invited to come and see the type of work

Best Income in Decade May Come to U. S. Farmers

Chicago, Aug. 20—(AP)—With farm income running ahead of 1939 and prices of principal commodities higher than a year ago, analysis of market statistics today indicated that United States farmers' chances of receiving the best income in a decade depend on price trends in the immediate future.

Price developments, in turn, depend partly on the war and world conditions. In the last four months of 1939 farmers benefited from sharp price rises due to the war. Now semi-paralysis of international trade and inability of many European importing nations to buy foreign farm commodities are affecting U. S. domestic prices.

Trade experts here said, however, that if restrictions on European demand are removed and some revival in export business is permitted, American farmers should benefit. Certain so-called food deficient countries are believed to have substantial credits in the U. S., they said.

In the first six months of 1940 cash farm income from marketings, plus government benefit payments, totaled $3,824,000,000, an increase of almost 9 per cent compared with the first half of 1939. Experts pointed out that the margin of improvement over last year has diminished recently since the price break of May.

In June, income was less than 1 per cent greater than a year ago.

that is being carried on at these cooperating farms to improve permanent pastures and control erosion of soil.

However, should the margin of improvement be maintained in the last half of the year total 1940 cash farm income and payments might top the $9,111,000,000 figure of 1937, which stands as the highest for any year since 1930.

The United States produces more tale than the rest of the world, and the state of New York accounts for about one-half of the total domestic output.

Gladys Witmer and Ray Hess Exchange Vows

Miss Gladys Witmer exchanged nuptial vows with Ray Hess in a twilight lawn wedding Saturday evening at the home of the bride's parents, the junior S. M. Witmers of Prairieville road, Dixon. Miss Clara McCune, a former teacher of the bride, played the wedding march, and accompanied John Honens, who sang "O Perfect Love."

The bride selected white accessories for her wedding dress of powder blue crepe. Her flowers were yellow tea roses and baby's breath, and her "something old" was a lace handkerchief carried by her grandmother as a bride 68 years ago.

Miss Agnes Litwiler of Minier was bridesmaid for her former colleague. She wore pink net over satin, with a corsage of white lilies.

Edward Venum of Chicago was best man for Mr. Hess.

Ellen Hettie Ebersole, a niece of the bride, scattered flowers in the path of the bride. She was dressed in blue dotted Swiss. Mrs. Carrie Nice of Sterling and Mrs. William Aldritt of Morrison, aunts of the bride, prepared the wedding supper. Grace Shank, Gertrude Ebersole, Hazel Baer and Ruth Gown assisted with the serving. The three-tier wedding cake was baked by the bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. Harry Witmer, and was decorated by Mabel Witmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Hess will reside in Chicago, where the bridegroom is employed as a chemist. He formerly attended the public schools of Whiteside county and Sterling Township high school, and was graduated from Wheaton college.

Mrs. Hess, who also attended the Whiteside county schools and Sterling high school, later studied at Goshen college. She has been a teacher in the Whiteside schools.

Hoyle Family Holds Reunion

The annual Hoyle reunion was attended by 114 relatives and friends on Sunday at Lowell park. Ice cream was the dessert course for a picnic dinner which was followed by diversion at the ball diamond and horse shoe courts for the men, playtime and games for the children, and pencil and paper contests for the women.

J. W. Hoyle received a prize for being the oldest attending. Mrs. Raymond Jackson was awarded the favor for traveling the farthest distance to attend, and the prize for the youngest guest went to Nancy, infant daughter of the Don Glessners of Princeton.

Other favors were awarded as follows: Corn guessing, Frank Buzzard and Mrs. Clifford King; balloon contest, Sonny Hoyle; pencil and paper games, Mrs. L. E. Elyre, Mrs. and Mrs. Frank Richardson and Mrs. Frank Hoyle; supper contest, Mrs. Earl Pelton. Officers elected for next year were:

BARN DANCE

Overalls and pinafores will be donned on Saturday evening for a Sadie Hawkins barn dance at which members of the Dixon Country club and their friends will be making merry on that date. Dinner at 8, will be followed by dancing at 10, with Dee Palmer's band from DeKalb entertaining the dancers.

Miss Bettie Haines heads the hostess committee for this novel event. Her committee members include Barbara Campbell, Leone Kreim, and Emily Swan.

Forster-Swingley Bridal Is Read

Paul Green of Dixon was the bridegroom's best man at the wedding of Miss Helen Swingley, daughter of the John Swingleys of Mt. Carroll, and James Forster, son of the Benjamin Forsters of Rochelle, which was solemnized Monday morning at St. John's and St. Catherine's church at Mt. Carroll. The Rev. Edward O'Brien of Savanna celebrated the nuptial mass.

The bride was attired in a cadet blue regingote with navy accessories accented by a corsage of gardenias. Her maid of honor, Maxine Strassenback of Streator, chose a rose-colored dress with navy accessories and a gardenia corsage.

Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast for 30 guests was served at the Hotel Glen View. Afterward, Mr. and Mrs. Forster left on a wedding trip to Minnesota. After Sept. 1, they will be at home in Grinnell, Iowa.

Mrs. Forster was graduated from Mt. Carroll high school in 1934, and from Frances Shimer college in 1936. For the past four years she has taught at the Fairgrounds rural school near Mt. Carroll. During the summer of 1938, she attended Illinois State Normal university at Normal, Ill. The bridegroom was graduated from Marengo high school and Dixon business college. He is now an accountant with the DeKalb Hybrid Seed company.

TENTH YEAR

Hold Summer Theater Play for Third Week

Grand Detour Players continue to make summer theater history for themselves as their second season draws to a close. Last week the troupe was repeating the Wilson-O'Connell comedy, "Post Script", in the first hold-over performance since their coming to Illini hall a year ago, and today, Director Richard Vernon announces that the same play will be repeated for a third four-night run, beginning Thursday evening.

The Players are expecting as distinguished guests this week, Garnay Wilson and Burke O'Connell, as well as Charles Washburn, current owner of their play, who plan to fly to the Rock river valley in the interest of selecting cast members for a Broadway production of the show this fall.

Miss Dorothy Fellows will be a newcomer to the Illini hall cast for "Post Script" this week. Performances are scheduled for 8:30 p. m. Thursday through Sunday, and 3 p. m. Sunday.

FETE FIANCEE OF BYRON MAN

Miss Ann Wettengel of Rockford, fiancee of Wilbur P. Cooper of Byron, is being feted at a gay round of pre-nuptial parties, preceding the couple's wedding, which is to take place on Saturday morning, Aug. 31.

The Misses Sue and Ann Schrader are entertaining for the bride-to-be on Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Chandler Miljer has arranged a dessert-bridge and pantry shower for Friday, and on Aug. 28, Mrs. John W. Grimes will be giving a luncheon for Miss Wettengel. A dessert party, and breakfast were included in party plans for the weekend.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

"Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike of another cause those whom they actuate to see danger only on one side, and serve to veil and even second the arts of influence on the other. Real patriots who may resist the intrigues of the favorite are liable to become suspected and odious, while its tools and dupes usurp the applause and confidence of the people to surrender their interests." From the Farewell Address.

Plain Dealer, Democratic 100 Years, Finds 3d Term Abhorrent to Principles

The following editorial is from the Cleveland Plain Dealer, Cleveland, Ohio, which for nearly one hundred years has been one of the staunchest Democratic newspapers in the country. It ardently supported Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1932 and 1936.

JEFFERSON VS. ROOSEVELT

If Thomas Jefferson were now alive, he would urge the defeat of Franklin D. Roosevelt for the presidency this year. Years after his retirement the author of the Declaration of Independence and the father of the Democratic Party wrote these words, worth recalling now:

"The example of four Presidents, voluntarily retiring at the end of their eighth year, and the progress of public opinion that the principle is salutary, have given it in practice the force of precedent and usage, inasmuch that should a President consent to be a candidate for a third election, I trust he would be rejected on this demonstration of ambitious views."

Jefferson is credited, with Washington, with establishing the anti-third term precedent. The first President set the example of refusing a third nomination. The second President being involuntarily a one-term executive, had no decision to make touching the issue.

The third President was Jefferson. That he could have had a third nomination, and probably a third election, few familiar with that period in American political history will doubt. He retired from office in March 1809. In January of that year, two months before the expiration of his term, Jefferson wrote:

"If the principle of rotation be a sound one,
as I conscientiously believe it to be, with respect to this (the presidential office), no pretext should ever be permitted to dispense with it, because there never will be a time when real difficulties will not exist, and furnish a plausible pretext for dispensation."

One finds in these words of Jefferson no conditioning of the principle he held "sound." Jefferson did not say that if world conditions looked serious as a President approached completion of his second term he would be justified in violating the anti-third term rule. For Jefferson foresaw, even while he was still in the White House, that any President desirous of a third term could readily set up specious reasons why at the moment he was an indispensable Man.

Leaving the Presidency in 1809, Jefferson lived till 1826. Years later, having then as elder statesman and political philosopher seen his successor Madison elected and re-elected and retire after eight years, Jefferson found his hostility to a third term strengthened by further observation. Any man who might try to extend his administration beyond eight years should "be rejected on this demonstration of ambitious views."

It required many years of political history to bring into existence the conditions Jefferson forecast only a few years before his death as dangerous to democracy in America.

For his "demonstration of ambitious views," Mr.
Roosevelt would be recommended for defeat by Thomas Jefferson, were he alive today!

Conditions change, but underlying principles are fixed from one generation to another. There is something abhorrent to democratic practice and theory in the doctrine of the Indispensable Man. If the situation in the United States is so desperate that only one among 130,000,000 persons is capable of leadership, the Nation is indeed in a bad way.

In that case political bankruptcy is already upon us. In that case it is probably too late for salvage.

The Plain Dealer refuses to adopt so defeatist an attitude. We refuse to subscribe to the doctrine of the Indispensable Man.

The precedent against the third term is part of democracy's bill of rights. It is part of America's policy of insurance against dictatorship. We side with Washington and Jefferson against Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Where Government Is Growing

Practically everyone who has watched the federal government's payroll climb from $62.00 in 1929 to $1,296,000 the first of this year has been concerned.
Of course it is even higher today, due to the defense program.

But we don't stop to think that local governments, right under our very noses, are climbing even faster. The Civil Service Assembly has shown in a new census that the largest proportional increase during the past 10 years (though not the largest actual number) was in state governments, which now employ 540,000, as compared to 297,000 10 years ago. City employees have increased from 718,000 to 940,000, and counties and smaller units from 269,000 to more than 500,000.

With the federal government payroll certain to increase tremendously as the defense program gains steam, the only possible chance of holding down government employment for some time to come is likely to be in the state and local fields.

Twins Seek Home in or Near Dixon

With the approach of the fall school term, Don and Leon, 14-year-old twins, are anxious to find a home in or near Dixon. A reasonable board will be paid for the boys by the Illinois Children's Home & Aid Society.

Alike not only in appearance, both boys are very much interested in drawing and sketching and look forward to the opportunity of further training in this direction when they start in high school this fall. At present they are both in Chicago although they have been on farms in this vicinity for the past few months.

C. H. Wellman, the Home & Aid society's representative in Lee county, will be very glad to talk with any protestant family which is interested in the boys and explain the details of the arrangement. He may be reached at 802
South Galena avenue, telephone X-1091.

Washington, August 20.—The only Republican official in Washington who had an advance scout at Wendell Willkie's acceptance speech was Joe Martin, who is to be the right hand man. All the others were left out, even the vice-presidential candidate, Senator McNary.

Willkie apparently wanted to keep the document personal. He must have been determined to avoid the errors of past candidates who tried to make their acceptances a composite statement of party viewpoint, but succeeded only in getting so many diverse opinions the result was hash.

While the Hoosier patiently received considerable verbal advice on many subjects, his speech was wholly his own to such an extreme extent that few of the party big-wigs even knew what was coming.

The political tradesmen around
Washington have had an idea Mr.
Roosevelt was afraid of Willkie.

The peculiar type of campaign the president has adopted, has sponsored this position. With Landon four years ago, Roosevelt draped a friendly arm around his opponent's shoulders and looked down his nose benignly if pitifully. Eight years ago he picked up Hoover with a pitchfork. But he has been avoiding Willkie.

Just after the Republican's nomination, out of some cracks in the floor here, came caustic indirect comments about Willkie being "power trust," "a second Insull," and so forth. An immediate slap came back from Willkie's camp in Colorado Springs about "people who sold worthless German marks." Since then the sideline bypay of the campaign has been quiet. Roosevelt has been determined to make no more speeches than forced to. He even went to the extremity of failing to listen to Willkie's speech, and has presented the picture of being too busy with important problems to be bothered with such minor trivialities as a face-to-face debate.

Grayson's Scoreboard

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

The fight game is so dead that Mike Jacobs is too sick to talk about it, but his suggested cure is a $5.50 top at Madison Square Garden this fall.

What the entire business needs is a good rest, but Jacobs will continue to harass the small clubs, which make big attractions possible, by staging matches which belong in the suburbs.

As long as Jacobs is set on bringing into the Garden bouts the late Tex Rickard wouldn't fool with, he should make the maximum admission 55 cents, which is what the same cards would sell for in neighborhood arenas.

Billy Conn and Bob Pastor are going to fight in the Garden, Sept. 6, at an 11.50 top only because that was the tax in the first place, and Jacobs feels he would be cheapening the production by shaving it.

The reason he called this one off at the Polo Grounds "on account of rain" was the advance sale totaled no more than $4,000.

The putting off of the Conn-Pastor affair means Joe Louis will be idle until next summer.

Talent is so scarce that Jacobs is falling back on obscure local boys for two shows following Conn and Pastor.

Steve Belloise, a promising middleweight of The Bronx, tackles Ceferino Garcia, Sept. 12, and Al Davis of Brownsville, engages Tony Martellano of the east side, Sept. 20.

The promoter hopes to get an opponent for Ken Overlin, New York's middleweight champion, out of the first engagement, and someone to square off with Henry Armstrong, the welter ruler, in the second.

Tony Zale of Gary, Ind., the real middleweight boss, refuses to do business with Jacobs, contending he was given the run around when he needed help.

Meanwhile, Georgie Pace, Cleveland Negro, boxes Lou Salica for the bantam leadership in a benefit show at the Polo Grounds, Aug. 22.

They're wrapping up a lot of music with this one as an added attraction, and which probably will be the real attraction, but the customers are even more apathetic toward this one than they were toward Conn and Pastor.

The boxing racket was never so sadly lacking in new and magnetic faces.

A lot of boxers came out of the last great call to arms... from Gene Tunney on down the line.

The boys have time and the inclination to get pugnacious when they fix bayonets.

Mike Jacobs' and professional boxing's only hope seems to be the military movement.

"Screw" Health Ideas Draw Near to Discard Today

Chicago, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Health conscious Americans—and they are legion—are about to abandon their "screw" health fads, says Prof. Arthur H. Steinhaus of George Williams college.

They are going to drop beliefs that a strong sun tan is good for one, that shrimps and strawberries should never be taken together, that irregular eating is a common cause of stomach trouble and many others unsupported by scientific investigation, Prof. Steinhaus asserted in an interview today.

Prof. Steinhaus is chairman of the health instruction section of the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation and is head of George Williams' department of physiology.

"Having passed through two stages of health consciousness, first the period of slogans such as 'early to bed and early to rise' and the second of 'health facts', we are about to enter one of 'health reasons', he said. "The new period is based on the conviction of health authorities that people can distinguish a fact from a falsehood only if they know the reasons behind each statement."

With the advancement of scientific investigation, he said, more and more persons are beginning to ask the "whys" of health facts, and health authorities will have to teach health reasons, rather than rules and "facts".

Prof. Steinhaus described the open-window-oxygen-fund, who covers himself up to his nose with a huge pile of blankets, as definitely crazy.

"It's not so much the oxygen, but the room temperature that's important," he said. "What this fellow actually does is overheat his body with blankets and prevent a good circulation of air."

"Some other 'screw' ideas still entertained by some health enthusiasts are these:

"Bow legs result when babies are permitted to walk too early in life. (It's the diet that's responsible.)"

"An outdoor walk is invigorating because there is more oxygen in the open air."

"The human body renews all of its parts once every seven years."

"Acid foods should never be taken with milk."

"Poor posture is one of the causes of tuberculosis."

"Regular physical exercise will increase one's resistance to most disease germs. (This has been proved false by scientific tests. Healthful living, but not exercise of itself helps resist germs.)"

"The chewing of hard foods will strengthen and harden the enamel of the teeth. (It helps the gums, but not the enamel.)"

"An athlete should refrain from eating sweets and ice cream while he is in training. (On the contrary sweets form the most rapid source of energy.)"

And, Prof. Steinhaus said in conclusion, there's no use getting envious of the fellow with the heavy coat of tan, because it's the condition under which the tan is acquired that is important, and not the tan itself.

Amount of life insurance in force today in the United States is said to be equal to about 25 per cent of the total national wealth.

Golfers' Caution Very Noticeable

New York, Aug. 20.—(AP)—It's hard to believe, but golfers appear to be a trifle more cautious than they were a few years back. At least there aren't so many of them willing to spend five dollars on the slim chance that they'll qualify for the national amateur championship, which will be played at the winged foot club, Mamaroneck, N. Y., Sept. 9-14.

The entry list for the amateur shows the same downward trend that was seen in the open championship. The official figures announced today by the United States Golf Association show that just 756 entries were accepted. That's the lowest total, with one exception, of any year since 1933. When the amateur was played at Portland, Ore. in 1937 there were only 619 entries.

Salt Lake City Dropped
As a result one of the locations where sectional qualifying rounds were scheduled a week from today—Salt Lake City—was dropped, leaving 28 sites where 746 golfers will shoot their 36 holes each. Only 140 places in the big tournament were open to these hopefuls, as the field in the tournament proper is limited to 150. Ten former champions are exempted from the sectional qualifying.

That makes the odds about 5 to 1 that any player who makes the attempt next week won't qualify and the boys apparently don't like such odds unless they figure they have the game to beat them.

The number of places allotted to each site where sectional qualifying rounds will be played next Tuesday were based, as usual, on the size and strength of the fields. The entry totals and qualifying places for the Chicago section were 74 and 15 respectively.

$1,200,000 Coliseum for State Fair Urged

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Construction of a $1,200,000 building at the state fairgrounds, to be used jointly as a coliseum and as quarters for mechanized cavalry units of the National Guard, has been proposed by E. E. Irwin, general manager of the fair.

Irwin said he had discussed the proposal with the state fair advisory board headed by Benjamin F. Stein, Chicago broker. The proposed structure would have a seating capacity of 8,500 compared with the 3,000 capacity of the present coliseum in which the fair's society horse shows are held.

Irwin called a new coliseum the "most needed" improvement at the fairgrounds. Construction of the building would require an appropriation by the legislature.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By The Associated Press)
Carl Hubbell, Giants — Racked up third victory over Cincinnati Reds with seven-hit performance. Dick Erickson, Bees — Scattered nine hits in pitching Boston to 3-0 win over Pirates for ninth win.

Joe Heving, Red Sox — Scattered 12 hits as mates pounded out decisive 16-7 victory over league leading Indians.

MANGRUM WINS $150
Youngstown, O., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Lanky Ray Mangrum, unattached Pittsburgh professional, pocketed $150 today—top money in the first $500 Mahoning open golf tournament. He posted 69-68—137, seven under par, for the 36-hole contest.

Votes for Members of All Star Team Pour in in Earnest

Entering into the last week of voting for the players to be chosen for the Illinois State League All Star baseball team the votes are pouring into the Dixon Evening Telegraph. Baseball fans all over Lee County have really gotten out and voted for their favorite players. Large votes have come in from Amboy, West Brooklyn, Walton, Maytown, Dixon, and other parts of the county. The All-Star team chosen will have plenty of chances to show its wares before baseball scouts in the game Sept. 1.

Chicago Cubs, Chicago White Sox, Milwaukee Brewers, Madison Blues, Clinton Giants and the Decatur Commies will send scouts to watch this game. This game may give some of the ball players in the league a chance to sign contracts with some of these teams and have their chances in organized baseball. Besides playing in Dixon Sept. 1, the All Star team will play in Clinton, Iowa in Clinton's Three Eye league park. On the night of Sept. 6 meeting either the Clinton Giants of the Three Eye league or an All Star team picked from eastern Iowa.

To Play in Mt. Morris

On October 6 Mt. Morris will hold a home coming for the return of Nelson Potter who has been pitching great ball for the Philadelphia Athletics all season. Nelson will pitch for the Mt. Morris team against the All Stars of the Illinois State League on that Sunday. This will give the boys a chance to see what they can do with major league pitching. Josh Billings, formerly St. Louis Browns and Cleveland Indians catcher, who this year is manager of the Clinton Giants, has written to the sports editor of this paper stating that he will do all he can to make the All Star games a success both in Dixon and Clinton and he hopes that the fans will choose a team each year. All votes must be in by Saturday night and those mailed must not be dated later than midnight on that night.

Alleged Obscene Show at State Fair Closed

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 20.—(AP)—State officials have closed one state fair carnival revue and ordered five runs in the sixth. Bradford's single, Ogle's error, Bugg doubled, walks to B. Carlson, Kuhn, and Davis, a single by Ellis, and a double by Spinden, all took place after two more were out and Shapiro was on the mound, time was called and Ogle was called in from rightfield to pitch to Bond, with the bases loaded. Ogle walked, forcing in United's fifth and last run. B. Carlson pitched three innings for the United, allowing eight runs on eight hits. He walked three and struck out none. Glenn who relieved him in the fourth allowed seven hits, walked one and struck out two. Slain had a perfect night at bat with a triple, double, and two singles. Shapiro also had a perfect night with a triple and two singles. These same four teams will play again Wednesday night. This will be the second round of the series and the first teams winning two games will play for the championship of Dixon.

REES-CAMILLI LIGHTNING
Lightning never strikes twice in the same place. Same can not be said for Brooklyn's newest homer-thriller combo, Reese and Camilli. Twice within 5 days this budding thunderbolt did its stuff to the glee of Flatbush fandom and consternation of National League foemen. Against the Cubs August 4, Reese's homer in the 9th tied the score. Camilli's in the 11th won the game. Versus Giants August 9, Reese's homer in the 7th tied it. Camilli's in the 12th broke it up.

LOVE AT FIRST FIGHT

Brookfield, Mo. —(AP)—Tax Assessor Oscar Crandall, visiting a farm, was attacked savagely by a barnyard rooster and bought it on the spot.

When Crandall took the rooster home it headed for Mrs. Crandall's garden. She tried to chase it away and the bird turned its wrath upon her. Mrs. Crandall called the dog catcher, and the rooster made a pass at him too. The rooster's rule in the Crandall yard became undisputed. Crandall was impressed by the bird in the first place because he was accustomed to roosters that were cool.

REYNOLDS WIRES, JAY'S HIGH LIFE WIN FIRST ROUND

City Championship Soft Ball Series Opens at Dixon Airport

A large crowd of fans sat through two long games at the Airport last night when four teams started the playoffs for the city softball championship. Everything happened last night, arguments with the umpires, players nearly coming to blows, and along near midnight after the fireworks were over, Reynolds Wire and Jay's High Life were acknowledged the winners.

In the first game Reynolds defeated Freeman's 8 to 7. Reynolds took the lead in the first inning, making three runs on a single by Murphy, a triple by Ankeny, an error by Kuhn, a single by Miller and another error by Randall. Reynolds scored two more in the fourth to lead 5 to 0, on triples by Lynch and Cinnamon and Kuhn's second error. Freeman's scored their first run in their half of the fourth on a single by Keichner and two errors by Page and Cox. Reynolds scored two more in the sixth on a single by Murphy and errors by Fox and Cramer.

In the sixth Freeman's tied the score six all, a single by Reynolds, walks to Keichner and Clayton, singles by Fox and Dempsey, and a double by Randall scoring four runs. In the seventh Reynolds scored two runs to win the ball game on no hits, a walk to Carlson, and two errors by Dempsey. In their half of the seventh Freeman's scored one run a walk to Cramer, a single by Pitman, and Miller's error scoring Freeman's one run. Freeman's had the bases loaded in the last inning but Clayton lined out to Flanagan who doubled Pitman off third. Fordham for the winners walked six and struck out eight. Williams walked two and struck out four. The score:

HIGH LIVES WIN EASILY

In the second game Jay's High Lives were leading the United City Star team ten to nothing before the United team got going and by that time it was too late and they lost 10 to 5. Jay's scored four in the second, singles by Slain, Krug, a walk to Ogle, a single by Shapiro, and errors by Parker and Williams accounting for the four runs. They scored four more in the third, when Slain tripled, Krug walked, Fane doubled, Ogle singled, and Shapiro tripled. Jay's finished their scoring in the fourth with their last two runs. Glenn's error, Litterel's single, and Slain's double accounted for these two runs.

With the score ten to nothing the United came to life and scored five runs in the sixth. Bradford's single, Ogle's error, Bugg doubled, walks to B. Carlson, Kuhn, and Davis, a single by Ellis, and a double by Spinden, all took place after two more were out and Shapiro was on the mound, time was called and Ogle was called in from rightfield to pitch to Bond, with the bases loaded. Ogle walked, forcing in United's fifth and last run. B. Carlson pitched three innings for the United, allowing eight runs on eight hits. He walked three and struck out none. Glenn who relieved him in the fourth allowed seven hits, walked one and struck out two. Slain had a perfect night at bat with a triple, double, and two singles. Shapiro also had a perfect night with a triple and two singles. These same four teams will play again Wednesday night. This will be the second round of the series and the first teams winning two games will play for the championship of Dixon.

Rainouts Cause Change in State Loop's Schedule

All games in the Illinois State League being called off last Sunday due to wet grounds has made a change in the schedule for Sunday necessary. Dixon will meet Maytown in the second game of a double header, at West Brooklyn. Lee and West Brooklyn will play the first game starting at 1 o'clock sharp. Amboy will play at Steward. Walton will play at Shabbona. Due to the league's All-Star game to be held in Dixon on Sept. 1 there will be no games in the league on that day.

Sunday, Sept. 8: Dixon at Shabbona, Lee at Amboy, Maytown at Walton, and West Brooklyn at Steward. On Sept. 15 two postponed games will be played. West Brooklyn at Amboy and Steward at Walton. Labor day morning game Amboy will play Maytown at Maytown and the afternoon game will bring together Walton and Maytown. These games will be part of Maytown's annual homecoming and chicken dinner. There will be doings on the grounds all day, bands during the day and dancing at night.

Former U. of Illinois Golf Star Meets Death in Plane Crash in South
Pensacola, Fla., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Aviation Cadet Ralph O. Carlson, 24, captain of the University of Illinois golf team in 1939, suffered fatal injuries yesterday in the crash of his plane near the naval training station here.

Carlson, flying alone, crashed into a barn after his plane went into a spin at 500 feet altitude. The ship burst into flames. The aviator, whose home was in Lombard, Ill., had been a member of a flight training class for naval air cadets since May 27. He was survived by his parents, Oscar and Alexia Carlson; a sister, Ruby, and a brother, Roy.

Carlson was Illinois junior golf champion in 1935 and 1936 and played on the Illinois varsity team the following three years. He reached the finals of the Illinois amateur tournament conducted by the Chicago District Golf Association in 1939, losing the title match to George Dawson, for whom Carlson once had caddied at the Glen Oak Country club.

SCIENCE MARCHES ON
The portable bullpen is baseball's latest innovation. Brooklyn's 1940 Dodgers may or may not win the pennant, but they'll go down in history as the first major league club to carry its own bullpen when it goes on the road. Not a MacPhail notion, as might be supposed, but cropping from the brainpower of Flatbush fans, stirred deeply by reports that rival National League clubs choose the hottest corner of their parks for the visiting warmup reservation. They chipped in and purchased a handsome beach-chair effect complete with brackets and posts and a green-striped awning labelled "Dodgers". Baseball's first portable bullpen was launched before the public when the Brooks made their August invasion of the Polo Grounds.

REDS' LEAD CUT TO FOUR GAMES; BROOKLYN AGOG

Hubbell Handcuffs Cincinnati for Third Time in Season

By BILL WHITE
Associated Press Sports Writer

This one is one of those rare occasions—like a total eclipse of the sun or breakfast without bacon and eggs. It marks the only time this—or any other—year when loyal Brooklyn fans will yell for, not at, the New York Giants.

The Giants, probably without meaning to, are helping their rambunctious rivals from across the East river catch up with the league leading Cincinnati Reds. And if there's anything a Dodger fan would rather see than the Giants being "moldered" it's his own superbas surpassing the Reds.

Hence the tag line in every Brooklyn prayer, "and please, bless the Giants just for this series with the Reds."

King Carl Shows

King Carl Hubbell scrawled the Reds into submission with a fine seven-hit performance while his mates were bashing out 14 hits off Oom Paul Derringer and three assistants. That left Brooklyn four games back of the Reds—just a pitch and a putt for the dashing Dodgers who have Leo Durocher back at shortstop to make them a wiser, if somewhat slower, outfit.

That was Carl's third win over the league leaders this year, while the defeat was Paul's fourth straight and 11th setback this season.

While Hubbell was making hash out of the Cincinnati Reds, Dick Erickson of the Bees was doing the same to the Pittsburgh Pirates' hopes for a first division berth. He won his ninth game of the season 3 to 0, limiting the Bucs to nine hits and skidding them down into sixth place.

Sibby Sisti scored the winning run in the third after he doubled and Carvell Rowell sent him home with a single. Chet Ross' single sent two more runs across after a walk and Deb Garm's error placed runners on second and third. Joe Bowman, the loser, pitched as well as Erickson, but his mates didn't help him in the clutches.

One Game in American
In the American league's only game, the Boston Red Sox gained their most decisive triumph of the season over the league-leading Cleveland Indians—smashing out 14 hits for a 16-7 win.

Included among the barrage of blows were four Sox homers—by Ted Williams, Bobby Doerr, Jimmy Foxx and Jim Tabor. Foxx's was his 33rd of the year while Tabor's came with the bases loaded. Slow-baller Joe Heving, collecting his eighth win of the season was touched for a dozen blows, including four batters by Roy Weatherly, Hal Trosky and Jeff Heath.

Two other American league games were scheduled—Detroit at New York and Chicago at Philadelphia—but both were rained out.

Springfield Increases Its Lead in Three Eye

By The Associated Press
Springfield stretched its Three Eye League lead to a game and a half last night with a victory while second place Cedar Rapids was breaking even in a double-header with Decatur.

A big four-run fifth inning gave the Brownies a 6 to 4 triumph over Waterloo. Bradley knocking a home run during the rally. Each team collected seven hits.

The Raiders knocked off Decatur in the first game, 3 to 2, on Ambree's three-hit pitching, but the Commies took the second game, 2 to 1. Mat Surkont held Cedar Rapids to six hits.

Mat defeated Clinton, 5 to 3, on Meketi's six-hit pitching and Madison upset Evansville, 11 to 7, dropping the losers into second division.

NO FINGER RINGS
When Charlie Frye, the Phils' new pitcher from Hickory, N. C., headed for the mound to stage his debut in the National League, Coach Hans Lobert flagged him, pointing to the handsome seal ring the rookie was wearing on his right or pitching hand.

"Better let me keep that ring for you," offered Hans.

"I'm keeping it myself," retorted Frye. "Helps me a lot with my curve ball."

Young Hickory was quite surprised to learn that they shoot pitchers who try to wear gadgets on their pitching hands to help them with their curve balls.

Mr. and Mrs. L. I. McQuillan were guests of relatives in Milwaukee Sunday.

Miss Eugene Franklin went to northern Wisconsin Monday for a week's vacation with friends.

Mrs. O'Neil, a refugee of Barcelona, Spain, was a week end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Hal O'Flaherty. Mrs. O'Neil, English born, left Spain because of the intense feeling there against English people. She expects to remain in America for a year at least. Her husband, an American citizen, is still in Spain.

Gene Wilmarth was a week guest of Bill Durie at Rockford. Rev. and Mrs. R. E. Chandler and daughter, Katherine have returned from a ten day's motor trip through Wisconsin and into Canada.

R. W. Thorpe attended the Dixon college reunion Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Maysilles, law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lundin, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Wachlin and Misses Grace and Edna Ehmen were among a party of 75 guests attending a surprise housewarming for Mr. and Mrs. Evert Gustafson at their cottage on Kishwaukee river, Saturday evening.

BUILDS MODEL OF SHIP
Milwaukee—(AP)—Walter Hull, whose great-grandfather commanded "Old Ironsides" in her famous battle with the English ship Guerriere in the war of 1812, is finishing a scale model of the ship that relative Isaac Hull piloted to victory.

A sailor since childhood, Hull has built many models for the Milwaukee public museum, and the American frigate, Constitution better known as "Old Ironsides," will be placed on exhibition there.

Hull's family came from Barnstable, England, and founded Barnstable, Mass., in the 17th century. His grandfather, the late K. C. Barker, a former mayor of Detroit, Mich., was commodore of the International Yacht club of the Great Lakes.

Wooden shoes, used in Holland and in some parts of France, have been known to wear for as long a period as 50 years.

Goiters were recognized as a human ailment 2,000 years ago, and were treated by sea salt, both eaten and applied externally.

You're Invited To Attend The Eighth Annual LEE COUNTY FAIR AND HORSE SHOW!

FRIDAY, SATURDAY, SUNDAY, AUG. 23-24-25

HORSE SHOW

STARTS

Friday Afternoon

Blue-blooded entries from four states, Indiana, Wisconsin, Iowa and Illinois, will be first exhibited Friday afternoon, bringing you the outstanding horseflesh in this territory. You'll be sorry if you miss this year's show. There will be a variety of events that will have interest for all.

$1,261.00 In Premiums

Premiums are increasing each year, attracting more entries from the finest stables in this and other states. Five-gaited, three-gaited, pleasure and roadster horses will be shown as well as clever little hackney ponies along with children's events.

A new feature of this year's show will be a showing of fine heavy horses, Percherons, Belgians, and grade draft classes. An increased premium means more interest and entertainment for both you and the entries. Every lover of horses will want to see this modern panorama of riding and work horses. There will also be local three and five-gaited horses as well as a variety of contests.

Other shows will be given Friday evening, Saturday afternoon, Saturday night and Sunday afternoon. You can find no other show with the atmosphere for real honest-to-goodness pleasurable entertainment and enjoyment. Every minute will be packed with excitement and thrills . . . so be on hand when the curtain raises on the eighth annual Lee County Fair and Horse Show . . . your biggest and most exciting show of the year!
